Welling NEWS NOTES

by Mrs. E. K. Bullock

A number of people as guests and helpers from Welling attended the Honored Guests party and dance at Raymond on Wednesday. The sumptuous dinner and program was enjoyed very much by all who attended. The committee should be highly commended on the efforts put forth each year to make such a pleasant day for so large a number. The ladies' corsages and floral decorations donated by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Card were lovely.

The Welling Relief Society's annual birthday party and dance was held on Friday night. The program was as follows: A one act play "The Great Joanne" was very ably given. A number of men from here responded to a call Saturday morning to come and help at the Raymond reservoir.

THE Sport Spot

Well fans, except for the R.I.S. the sport front is very quiet these days, nothing having happened since last week of much interest.

We did notice though, that Derrall Miller, "B" team coach, can't keep buttons on his shirt since his team is the Provincial Top. You'll find facts and figures in Campus Capers. The dates for the Dominion play-downs have been set at the 7th, and 8th of April when the winners of the Regina-Winnipeg series will meet the Jacks here to decide who will go on to Vancouver.

These dates are the same nights as the boxing eliminations in Cardston, but don't feel too bad; the R.A.A.A. and the local branch of the Canadian Legion will be joint sponsors of a boxing card to be held here one night during the same week. That way you can have your cake and eat it.

Both Golden and Mel agree that it is very nice of Cardston to hold eliminations for them so that we can see only the best of the fighters in action. It is convenient isn't it? The roads from the south are so bad that the scheduled games with the Shelby, Helma and other teams may not come off. If conditions improve we should see some top notch basketball before the play-downs. See you next week.

Friday evening while the Magrath High School team were playing ball at the pea House, somebody thought it would be fun and sportsman like to break the window out of their school van. However, next day the culprits were apprehended by the police. Monday they were escorted by Mr. Jacobs and the policeman to Magrath where they were made to apologise to the Magrath High School and to make restitution for the broken window. They will appear in Juvenile Court in the near future.

Miss Helen Garrett entertained at a birthday surprise party for Miss Jean McGilvary Monday afternoon. Twelve guests were present and after opening the gifts, games were played. A lovely lunch was served.

See "The Outlaw" Friday and Saturday.

The program which followed was much enjoyed. The dance which was scheduled however had to be cancelled owing to the flood conditions, the orchestra being unable to get through from Lethbridge.

The flood waters which recently swept this district are now receding and things are gradually getting back to normal. Repairs are being made to highways and C.P.R. tracks which were badly damaged by the high waters. However the ban on No. 4 highway has not yet been lifted, consequently bus and mail services are still slowed down.

The New Viceroy

THE APPOINTMENT OF the Viceroy of India has long been considered to be one of the highest honors which could be conferred by the British government. A long line of distinguished and able men have occupied the position, which has carried with it grave responsibility as well as great honor. Lord Louis Mountbatten of Burma, who has recently assumed this office, brings to it skill, experience and character which may cause him to go down in history as one of the greatest of those who have undertaken this difficult task. It is probable that he will be the last Viceroy to be appointed and in accepting the post he has undertaken an exacting and delicate mission, but he has shown, in the past, that he is capable of dealing with formidable problems.

A Naval Cadet When Thirteen

Great War broke out, he was a sub-lieutenant in a submarine flotilla. Between the two wars he made a serious study of wireless and signals and in the recent war he was in command of the destroyer Kelly, and then of the aircraft carrier Illustrious. Later, he became head of the Commandos, and went from that post to become Chief of Combined Operations at the time when the invasion of Europe was being planned. He solved formidable problems connected with the invasion by his part in the development of "Mulberry", the floating harbors and the great engineering project "Pluto", the oil pipeline under the sea. Before the invasion took place, however, Lord Mountbatten had become Supreme Allied Commander in Southeast Asia, where by attacking in the monsoon season, he surprised the Japanese and broke their resistance in that area.

Unity Needed Among People

A man who dealt so capably with the problems of war, may be expected to bring equal wisdom and energy to the problems of peace. The situation in India at the present time is extremely critical. In the time which Britain remains in control there, it is her responsibility to attempt in every way possible to bring about the unity which is essential to the Indian people if they are to have their independence. The tasks to be completed are as grave and as complicated as any which were encountered during the war, and no doubt the British government had this in mind when one of the most brilliant of the wartime leaders was chosen to be Viceroy at this time. One observer has said that if Lord Mountbatten is successful in this mission he will enhance an already great reputation, but that failure, under the present circumstances, will not diminish it.

Extend Farm Lands By Government Loans

Loans for the clearing and breaking of 52,000 acres of new land were made in Canada in 1946 by the branches of the chartered banks under the provisions of the Farm Improvement Loans Act. The loans were made of 1,008 farmers for a total of approximately $550,000. Most of the loaning for this purpose was done in Western Canada, particularly in outlying areas such as the Peace River area. Much of the land that was cleared and newly broken was done by large power units especially designed for the handling of such work, operating on a custom basis.

It is anticipated by the officials administering the Farm Loans Improvement Act that loans for the clearing and breaking of land will be substantially increased for 1947 and that as a result a considerable amount of new land will be put into production. The banks, particularly in outlying areas are co-operating to the fullest extent with the Dominion Government in making the loans which are instrumental not only in furthering the progress of individual farmers, but in the development of the newer districts as a whole.

An attractive pamphlet giving full particulars of the various classes of Farm Improvement Loans can be obtained by writing to the Supervisor, Farm Improvement Loans, Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Particulars can also be obtained from any branch of a chartered bank in Canada through which such loans are made.

BRITON FORESEES FLIGHT TO MOON IN SIXTY YEARS

LONDON.—A trip to the moon "within the next 50 or 60 years" in a space-ship travelling at thousands of miles an hour was visualized by Prof. A. M. Low in an interview recently.

The past president of the British Inter-planetary Society pictured pioneers wearing suits designed for protection against intense heat and cold and carrying their own oxygen supplies, seated in a giant space-ship navigated by radar and driven by atomic energy.

"The first useful experiment in this direction will undoubtedly be the American 'rocket postal service' between the United States and Britain," he said. "If you can travel from America to Britain by rocket—and no one doubts that you can—you can certainly travel to the moon."

"Hundreds of thousands of people will almost certainly be killed in first attempts at inter-planetary travel, but if as much money were to be spent on designing space-ships as has been spent designing weapons of war a safe method of making the journey would no doubt be found in time."

"Such a space-ship could be designed, but it will not be built now because it is quite beyond the means of any private society and because it has no immediate financial return."

Husband: "Well I rather think that's the way it should be pronounced."

Applicant: "And if I take the job am I to get a rise in salary every year?"

Employer: "Yes, if your work is satisfactory."

Applicant: "Ah, I thought there was a catch in it somewhere."

SON RE-UNITED TO MOTHER AFTER BEING STOLEN YEARS AGO

ST. LOUIS.—A mother's persistent search, a boy's curiosity and a ticket for speeding were credited with reuniting the mother and her son, who disappeared 24 years ago when he was three years old.

Creighton Collins, 27, of St. Louis, heard his mother's voice for the first time in his memory when the mother, Mrs. J. Frank Draper, telephoned him from Portland, Ore.

Collins, a truck driver, said that he planned to take his wife and two daughters, Gail Frances, 5, and Jacqueline, 3, this summer to visit his mother, whom he doesn't remember.

"I'm going to see her just as soon as possible," he said. "We're both very happy about it."

His mother was divorced from his father at St. Louis in 1922. She hired a nurse, Mrs. Anna Sutter, to help care for her son.

One day in 1923 the nurse asked if she could take the child to Belleville, Ill., to visit with her friends there. Mrs. Collins agreed. That was the last she saw of them. St. Louis and Belleville police found no trace of them.

Creighton said his earliest memories were of the nurse, who treated him like a son.

They lived in St. Louis at the rooming house she operated.

Mrs. Sutter changed his name to Dale Connors, apparently to avoid being found by the police.

But the boy began to wonder about his real parents. At 17 he realized she was holding back information.

"I threatened to run away unless she told me," he said.

Mrs. Sutter then told him, he said, that she had taken him for a visit to Portland to meet his parents in 1923 and returned when his parents failed to meet them. She told him his true name, and Collins adopted it. Her story satisfied him. The years passed.

He married, moved away and set up his own home.

When Mrs. Sutter became ill, Collins sent her to a nursing home, paying the bills from his salary as a truckdriver, until she died in 1944.

Meanwhile, his mother who had married J. Frank Draper and moved to Portland, kept pestering the police there to search for her son. They sent out circular after circular reporting him missing.

In 1943, Collins was arrested here for speeding. When he went to the station to pay a fine, a patrolman recognized his name as listed in a missing person circular from Portland police.

Collins asked to see the circular. It was dated 1935. He asked St. Louis police to investigate, but before action could be taken, he entered the Navy.

After his discharge he decided to write to Portland police who searched dusty files and traced the circular to Mrs. Draper. She immediately telephoned her son.

"She was crying so much I had trouble understanding her," said Collins.

Soviet Russia To Loan Poland Gold

MOSCOW.—The Soviet Union will loan Poland $28,855,000 in gold and deliver armament and other military equipment on credit, it was announced.

A Polish delegation headed by Prime Minister Josef Cyrankiewicz has been in Moscow since Feb. 25.

The agreement provides for a 50 per cent. reduction in Polish consular shipments to Russia; the return to Poland of railroad rolling stock seized by the Russians as "booty"; and the return by May 15 of "parts of the German merchant fleet credited to Poland."

MY WEEK

by R. J. Deachman

Now I know what fame is! I was walking down the street this morning and a few steps ahead of me was a woman with her little daughter, seven years of age. She pulled her mother over to a store window pointed her finger to a picture and said: "Mummy, that's our own Barbara Ann Scott!"

Everybody in Ottawa knows Barbara Ann Scott, who by aid of persistent practice for several years has made herself famous by picking up an European skating championship. But where in Canada could you find the picture of any other maa, woman or child, which could have drawn that little girl to a window and made her give, not only the name, but the words "our own"? This is fame. If your picture will draw a like comment, you are famous.

But what is the reason for all the excitement? First, the young lady herself was very charming. Amid all the fanfare of publicity that her victory brought her she behaved admirably. Then in Canada we are interested in skating, hockey and skiing. These are winter sports. The kiddies are anxious to grow up so that they may get into them. The older ones listen to the hockey broadcasts. Winter sports are becoming increasingly popular. They are big business in Quebec and Ontario. This was not only a victory for one person, it was a victory in a field of sport in which we are interested for a very bright young lady who was exceedingly popular. That's the reason we cheered so madly. Why shouldn't we cheer?

I read not long ago the following item, it turned up today in my file: "Now we have learned that money is merely the equivalent of goods, so if many people lack food there must be something very wrong with the exchange, the distribution of it. Probably it would be easier to distribute goods more evenly if every country produced all it consumed."

There is a strangely mixed paragraph. Money is not the equivalent of goods. Money is abundant in China. It takes an armful of Chinese money to buy a new pair of socks. The trouble is that there is too much money and too little goods, so what we need in the world is goods, not money. Now why should goods be so scarce. The answer is very simple. The war-time nations produced goods valued at hundreds of millions of dollars to use them in the destruction of goods and factories and cities, and it takes time to recover from six years of destruction. It will take at least six years of construction.

The second sentence of the same statement is equally absurd. I have seen apples growing in Saskatchewan but it is easier to grow wheat in Ontario, and let Saskatchewan grow wheat and sell it in Britain and use the money to buy apples in Ontario. The simplest way to obtain things we want is quite often, to produce something else, then exchange it for the produce we desire to obtain. Someone remarked the other day that he viewed the present with serenity, the future with hope. I agree with him. The things we fear most, rarely happen.

PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONS! That's our B Team! The Opera House was packed with fans to see them while wash the Medicine Hat boys' and become the first R.H.S. 'B' basketball team to win the provincial championships. Of course that didn't come as a surprise to fans because the boys hadn't lost any games since the first one with Magrath back at the first of the season.

Most of the boys of the team, that is Garry Kirkham, Alan West, Ray Iwanaka, Monte Neel, George Fairbanks, Lawrence Turner, Rex Erickson, Pete Shaw, Alan Nalder and Alkie Hayashi have been under the expert coaching of Derral Miller for two years.

Garry Kirkham was the high scorer in the last game with the 'Hat and Alan West was the high scorer of the year.

After winning in their own league the boys played off with McLeod and Jefferson, winning both times in 2 games straight.

The toughest games, so I was told, were with Jefferson and Magrath but they couldn't get the best of the B boys.

The boys were probably the most popular of any team in either A or B leagues in Southern Alberta. They received a lot of support and publicity, not only from the students but from the townspeople as a whole. Is it any wonder that rumors say they may stick together another year with Mr. Miller as coach.

NEWS ITEMS FROM ROTARY

A good attendance was present at the weekly meeting of our Raymond Rotary Club held in the Second Ward Amusement Hall, Monday March 24th.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery of Rotarian Mose Fromm were extended by the club. Mose has been hospitalized with a dose of pneumonia but a visit to him Sunday indicated he was well on the way to recovery. Authorization for flowers to be sent to Mose was given the club Executive.

Other members noticeable by their absence were Secretary Shirley King and Tommy Roberts. "Boys, boys, you should arrange your Lethbridge trips at other times."

After a delicious dinner served by the Second Ward Ladies Auxiliaries (my we do appreciate them), business in hand was disposed of. A report of our Rotarian Red Cross Canvass was given by Rotarian C. R. Wing who is in charge of this work. Canvass has gone well to date and members were asked to complete their allotted territory by the end of this week. Some discussion took place here, as some members expressed their objections to Rotary Club being made a "Collection Agency". It was suggested that perhaps all civic organizations in town could band together in an annual drive for a "Community Chest". President Roi Stone promised further discussion and decision would be deferred to a later meeting. The Community Service committee advised good progress towards installation of "Town of Raymond Booster Signs" at Craddock and Weiling was being made. A letter of commendation tion from the Cardston Rotary Club drew our attention that we were now numbered among the first ten clubs in district 116.

The proposed visit of the Cardston Club for this week failed to materialize as bad roads thwarted their good intentions. This visit has been indefinitely postponed until road conditions improve. We are looking forward to your visit Cardston.

In the absence of the program from Cardston, Frank Taylor of the Program Committee called upon Rote Lee Brownerton for a report on his visit to the lauds of our South-era Neighbor. Lee gave a very interesting talk, referring to his hospitalization, his visit to the Salt Lake Rotary Club and other newsy items. We regret Lee, that you didn't make it to Sunny California, but were glad to hear that the mud of our fair city looked mighty good to you on your return.

Next week our meeting will take the form of a "Ladies Night" held at the home of Rotarian T. George, 7:30 p.m. when we will have the pleasure of viewing films of a "South American Tour" taken by Mr. Thompson of Spring Coulee.

Until then we leave you with this thought: "When we contemplate what the gas engine did to the horse we wonder what some of these new inventions may do to the human animal. Maybe we won't be needed either."

A National Film Board release for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, "Vegetable Insects" studies the damage caused by insects to Canada's vegetable revenue. It is estimated that they destroy each year, 10 per cent of the total crops raised—a financial loss of $12,000,000. The short color film shows vegetable growers how to recognize and destroy noxious insects.

China Aims To Have More Ships

NANKING.—Ships flying the Chinese flag will be a regular sight in all principal world ports, particularly those of the South Seas and the West Coast of the United States and Canada if a new two-year shipping rehabilitation program drawn up by the Chinese government is fully carried out.

Under this new plan—made public at a time when the country's leading shipping interests are demanding a firm stand against any foreign requests for inland navigation rights—China is to have between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 tons of shipping by 1949.

This is to be acquired by new building, purchases abroad, Japanese reparations and salvage of vessels sunk during the war in Chinese waters.

A less ambitious scheme calling for increase of shipping tonnage by about 100,000 tons to the pre-war level of 600,000 tons during 1946, was achieved last September.

The first stage in the new plan calls for an estimated 700,000 tons to replace the foreign tonnage that has been withdrawn. It is hoped to achieve this target by the end of this year by purchase from the United States and Canada and new building in Chinese yards.

Some time this year the Chinese government also hopes to receive about 530,000 tons of Japanese shipping as reparations.

The second and last stage of the expansion program calls for acquisition of large-sized craft of a total tonnage of between 500,000 and 1,000,000 tons. Most of these will be ocean-going freighters and will be used to carry China's imports.

It is likely that work will begin some time in the next few months on a long-planned new dockyard in Shanghai which will be capable of building and repairing ships up to 30,000 tons. Most of the necessary equipment will be supplied by Japan as reparations.

Chow Mou-Pak, shipbuilding expert of the National Resources Commission, is expected to leave for Japan shortly to arrange for shipment of the equipment.

The new dockyard, which will be situated in the Woosung area—at the mouth of Shanghai Harbor—will take three years to complete.

A new dry battery that may be useful in an atomic age for warning persons of dangerous radio-active rays was announced recently by the National Carbon Company, New York. The battery is 500 volts, but small enough to fit in the palm of a man's hand.

BRIDE-TO-BE—June wedding is planned by Martha Parke Firestone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone, seen here, and William C. Ford, son of the late Edsel Ford and grandson of Henry Ford. The bride-to-be is granddaughter of the late Harvey S. Firestone, founder of the rubber company of which her father is president.

Denmark Is Not Giving Up Greenland

COPENHAGEN.—Foreign Minister Gustaf Rasmussen told Parliament that Denmark never will give up Greenland.

He said the Danish Government was striving to clear Greenland of Americans and expected that they would be gone in "the not too remote future."

11,901 PHYSICIANS PRACTICE IN CANADA

There were 11,901 physicians in Canada on July 1, 1946, the Government reported in a Commons' return tabled for F. D. Shaw (SC—Acadia).

They included 74 in Prince Edward Island; 492 in Nova Scotia; 293 in New Brunswick; 3,334 in Quebec; 4,752 in Ontario; 706 in Manitoba; 562 in Saskatchewan; 676 in Alberta and 1,012 in British Columbia.

In the next five years, 3,004 medical students are expected to graduate, including 387 this year, 568 in 1948, 640 in 1949, 662 in 1950 and 747 in 1951.

Hunger Dominates Love In Japan

TOKYO.—Japan's public opinion poll takers report that the pangs of hunger out-tug the pangs of love.

Among 506 single Japanese women between 18 and 26 in Tokyo, the poll found that most of them, instead of love, wanted in the way of a husband a man who had enough money to buy anything he desired in the black market.

LET "MR. FISH" BE YOUR DISH—When one of my neighbors runs out of ideas on what to serve for dinner, she says, "There's always fish." And so there is. For every season is fish season, and there's always some kind of fish to be had. We're too apt to snub "Mister Fish" instead of making him the highspot of a mighty fine meal. This Baked Fish can be the centre of a savory dinner, even company dinner.

Donald Gordon's Resignation Seen As Precursor Of Early Dissolution Of Prices Board

OTTAWA.—Resignation of Donald Gordon from the chairmanship of the wartime prices and trade board is a precursor of early dissolution of that wartime control body, according to informed sources here.

Kenneth W. Taylor, who assumes Mr. Gordon's position as chairman, is at present, as he has been for years past, the chief economic officer of the department of finance.

It is logical, therefore, that, as reliable sources say, the dwindling control of rent ceilings will be handed over to the Central Mortgage and Housing corporation which operates within the authority of the federal department of finance. Control of lumber and building materials prices and supplies may also go to the Central Mortgage and Housing.

Both price ceilings and rationing on meat are expected to be abolished before next September. Dropping of meat control will wipe out one of the biggest functions—and headaches—of W.P.T.B.

Enforcement of meat and sugar rationing has required probably more rigid supervision, and more inspectors, than any other branch of commodity control.

Total employees of the W.P.T.B. reached a peak, in fact, of 5,726 in October, 1945, immediately after rationing of meat was adopted.

Since then, the number of employees of the board has been gradually dwindling. The total is projected to drop to about 4,000 on March 31, and thereafter is expected to decrease very rapidly.

As these functions of the W.P.T.B. disappear, the remnants of controls, such as distribution of sugar and fixing of sugar prices by the sugar control division at Montreal will be, according to this information, handed over to authority of the federal department of trade and commerce.

The commodity stabilization which does all Canada's bulk buying from foreign sources from raisins to tea and fats and oils, now operates under the wartime prices and trade board. Logically, its operations also are expected to be transferred to the department of trade and commerce.

In short, the objective of the government, as has been stated time and time again in the house, is to continue rapidly to abolish the remnants of wartime subsidies, price ceilings and rationing at the earliest moment consistent with avoiding economic confusion.

GOVERNMENT NOT AGAINST ROYAL MATCH

LONDON.—A government source said there was reason to believe the government would not oppose a marriage between Princess Elizabeth and former Prince Philip of Greece.

The source said the cabinet had discussed the long-rumored romance informally. The members, he indicated, appeared to have recognized that "the two young people are very fond of each other" and that Elizabeth's affection for Philip is "very real."

Under British precedent the government would have to approve any man whom the heiress-presumptive to the throne might select as her consort. Some sections of the people have objected to Philip because of his connection with Greece, which many labor leaders consider now to be a neo-Fascist country.

The official London Gazette announced that Philip had been granted British citizenship under the name of Lieut. Philip Mountbatten—the same name as his uncle, Lord Louis Mountbatten, viceroy-designate of India. The step had been regarded as a necessary prelude to any announcement of his engagement to Elizabeth.

Diary Is Convictor

PITTSBURGH.—Charlotte Glikis couldn't resist recording the day's events in her diary. As a result, she and her husband, Jerry, were in jail, charged with burglary.

Police Inspector John Whalen, who said the couple was arrested after being found prowling in a west end home, quoted these excerpts from Mrs. Glikis' diary:

"Feb. 3: Jerry and I took a walk tonight to Northside. Got the baby a blue coat with leggings and Jerry two nice coats and myself two grand ones."

"Feb. 22: Best ever, $25 cash, shoulder strap pocketbook, $5 pennies, an expensive dark grey fur coat for me."

HOLDUPS GET $500,000

CHICAGO.—Five men, one carrying a submachine-gun, obtained $16,000 in cash and nearly $500,000 in cheques in a holdup of a guard at the Oscar Mayer meat packing company.

The Virgin Islands were purchased by the United States from Denmark in 1917.

PROVINCES TO ADOPT UNIFORM ROAD SIGNS

REGINA.—Highways Minister J. T. Douglas welcomed the news that British Columbia was planning to inaugurate uniform road signing in conjunction with the prairie provinces.

"This will come as an added convenience to the motoring public," commented Mr. Douglas. "At the moment there is fine co-operation between the four western provinces on such matters as speed limits and other safety measures."

The three prairie provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, have been working together for some time now and have reached the point where road signing is fairly uniform. Last winter British Columbia was represented for the first time at a highway traffic board conference attended by representatives of the prairie provinces.

Public Works Minister E. C. Carson of British Columbia announced that the Pacific coast province would adopt uniform road signing in conjunction with the prairie provinces. Mr. Carson also said that province would undertake the removal of non-essential signs from the highways as an additional highway help.

CONFERENCE DATE STILL INDEFINITE

OTTAWA.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said in the commons he is not yet in a position to say when a conference will be called with the provinces to discuss social security and public works programs.

He quoted a telegram he had sent Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan Nov. 22, 1946, saying that the public investment and social security proposals submitted to the Dominion-provincial conference in 1945 would remain an essential part of the Dominion government's program.

The telegram added: "As soon as there is sufficient acceptance of the proposed tax agreements we shall be ready to explore in a general conference or otherwise the possibility of working out mutually satisfactory arrangements in regard to the whole or any part of our earlier public investment and social security proposals."

Mr. King said he did not think the conditions outlined had yet been fulfilled and therefore he was not in a position to say when a conference would be called.

RIOTS CONTINUE IN THE PUNJAB

RAWALPINDI, India.—Twelve days after the outbreak of rioting in the Punjab, murder and arson are still spreading through the northern districts and appalling casualty figures are expected when an adequate check can be made.

Indications are that virtually every village in the 10,000-square-mile area around this cantonment city has experienced murder and arson since March 5.

There are about 700,000 Moslems and 50,000 Sikhs and Hindus in the Rawalpindi area. So far about 20,000 Hindus and Sikhs have been counted into refugee camps. There is considerable anxiety about the remainder, since reports from many villages show that Sikhs and Hindus who failed to find refuge by flight or with Moslem protectors were murdered.

According to refugees, attacks on villages are usually made in the night, with raiders coming from neighboring villages. Frequently the first the authorities hear of an outbreak is smoke reported by patrolling aircraft.

LETHBRIDGE FLOOD WORST IN HISTORY

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—Lethbridge continued to fight the worst flooding of settled areas in its history as the heavy run off from rapid melting snow began to disrupt the municipality's transit system.

Water was still being pumped from the basements and from about dozens of homes inundated by large lakes which formed in low-lying sections not served by storm sewers. Water five feet deep was lapping against the backs of some residences and in at least one north Lethbridge home water was several inches deep in the house and the basement was flooded.

Civic officials described the flooding of various residential areas as "the worst we've ever seen in Lethbridge."

SMALL WAIST ADVANTAGE

SPY HILL.—Small waisted colleens were ahead of the game in Spy Hill when the ladies' aid charged a cent per inch waist measurement as admittance to the St. Patrick's day tea.

FLOWERS FOR THE PRINCESS—King George and Queen Elizabeth smile as their daughter, Princess Elizabeth, receives a bouquet from a curtsying young miss on their visit to Port Elizabeth, South Africa.

Growers Get Large Sum Out Of Grain Policy

WINNIPEG.—Transfer of approximately 50,000,000 bushels of oats and barley in commercial channels across Canada to the Canadian wheat board and distribution of $5,000,000 to western growers who have delivered barley, featured the coarse grains policy announced in the commons by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Grain men here said the oats and barley futures market on the Winnipeg grain exchange would be able to operate in only a limited way with fluctuations confined to the spreads between the support and the price ceiling prices.

There will be no changes in the cash or futures market for rye on the exchange.

Domestic trade in oats and barley will continue to be handled by private trade channels although the wheat board will become the sole exporter.

Acreage Bonus Dropped
OTTAWA.—The acreage bonus plan for barley asked by numerous western coarse grain growers has been dropped by the government as the result of the new floor and ceiling prices announced by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture.

WEDS NEWSMAN—The daughter of the former Rajah of Sarawak, Borneo, Princess Pearl (Miss Elizabeth Brooke) is pictured in her New York hotel suite after it was announced that she will wed Richards Vidner, U.S. newspaperman.

RECORD SEIZURE IN NARCOTICS

NEW YORK.—Seizure of 459 ounces of heroin valued at $1,147,500 in the black market—the largest such seizure ever made in the port of New York—was announced by the collector of customs.

The narcotics were taken from the French freighter St. Tropes at its east river berth and a French sailor was arrested and charged with smuggling narcotics.

House Of Commons To Extend Emergency Control Legislation

—To Prevent Confusion

OTTAWA.—The commons, after hearing Justice Minister Hsley warn that "confusion if not chaos would result from an abrupt ending of controls in Canada," voted 177-13 to give the government authority to extend emergency control legislation from March 29 to May 15.

A similar motion now must pass the senate, before the government can prevent automatic expiry March 31 of controls on rents, evictions, prices, marketing and other matters.

The division was requested by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his colleagues after several members had shouted "no, no" when speaker Gaspard Fauteux called for passage of the emergency motion. Dr. Fauteux said he acted in accordance with house rules.

Some Progressive Conservative members charged the motion had been carried before Mr. King got to his feet to ask for the recorded division which brought opposition from 13 eastern members.

John Bracken, opposition leader and John Diefenbaker (P.C.-Lake Centre) asked for and obtained assurances that during the six-week extension of the emergency act the government would pass no orders-in-council affecting anything beyond what was contained in legislation now before the house.

Mr. Hsley told Mr. Bracken he was prepared to bring in an "omnibus" bill under which the main controls will be continued for a year. On introducing the legislation he would explain its provisions.

C.C.F. leader Coldwell said he believed it was essential that the government should have the power to continue controls. Social Credit leader Low said that while his party was supporting the extension motion he hoped no further extension would be required.

Later the commons voted 134-58 to give second reading to a bill covering the sale and export of agricultural products needed to fill bacon, cheese, egg, meat and other commodity contracts with the United Kingdom.

The reading, which signifies adoption of the principle of the bill, came after Agriculture Minister Gardiner warned that while the legislation was scheduled to be in force for only one year he might have to come back next year and ask for passage of a similar bill to meet contracts with Britain.

Mr. Gardiner said the only principle in the bill that the government was insisting on was the power to fill the food contracts with the United Kingdom. Because the contracts ran beyond March 31, 1948, it was possible that he might have to bring down similar legislation next year.

BRITAIN TO HOLD FORCE IN GREECE

LONDON.—Britain, far from withdrawing completely from Greece after March 31, will continue to maintain military, economic, legal and police missions there to advise the Greek government, foreign office sources said.

Furthermore, these sources said, Britain possibly may be bound by her guarantee given in 1939 to defend Greece against aggression. Whether this guarantee still is operative, however, is an open question.

British aid to Turkey since the end of the war largely has been limited to a military mission to train the Turkish army in the use of British weapons. That mission also will remain, the foreign office sources said.

Britain would be obliged under the British-French-Turkish alliance signed Oct. 19, 1939, to go to Turkey's assistance if it "became involved in hostilities with a European power."

SHIPS ARE COSTLY

OTTAWA.—Two Tribal class destroyers built in the Dominion during the war cost Canada approximately $7,951,879 each, according to a return tabled in the commons recently for R. S. Modie (C.C.F., Churchill).

Subsidy Figures On Agricultural Products Given

OTTAWA.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in the commons that since 1939 subsidies on agricultural products have amounted to more than $351,476,400.

He spoke during continued clause-by-clause study of a bill that will continue the marketing boards needed to handle the products called for in commodity and food contracts with the United Kingdom.

He said the subsidies included premiums on cheese, subsidies on cheese factories, cold storage, apples and agricultural products generally.

Mr. Gardiner said about 50 per cent of Canada's bacon and ham had gone to Britain since the start of the war as had an average of 60 per cent of cheese production.

Egg shipments had increased from 1,000,000 dozen in pre-war years to 83,000,000 dozen now.

Approximately 184,000,000 pounds of beef had been sent to Britain in 1945. This represented about 350,000 head of cattle.

Mr. Gardiner also indicated that any increase in the price of dairy products will not come until after he has had a mid-April meeting with the advisory committee on agricultural prices.

The committee, composed of government and producer representatives, is to meet the minister shortly after April 15. Mr. Gardiner said he wished to have the advice of the organization.

BLACK MARKET IN CANADA LIMITED

OTTAWA.—In relation to other countries, Canada's black market has been "very, very limited," Donald Gordon said, and it was "not a major headache of price control."

Testifying before the commons banking committee, the prices board chairman said: "With a few exceptions, we have not found any organized black markets. They have been on a small scale and had no chronic or serious aspects...I would say without hesitation that the Canadian people are basically honest."

He said the system of price control "has the early objective of complete decontrol" and added that lifting of remaining subsidies was a matter of timing. The board would maintain subsidies on certain commodities until foreign conditions were such that it could be reasonably sure that prices had achieved stability.

Canadians May Send Food Parcels To Hungary, Romania

OTTAWA.—Canadians now may send parcels of food and clothing to friends and relatives in Hungary and Romania as the result of agreements which have just been signed between the governments in those countries and the Co-operative for American Remittances to Europe, Breen Melvin, Canadian representative of C.A.R.E., announced.

Orders now may be placed for delivery of C.A.R.E. food, blanket and woolen textile packages at $10 each, said Mr. Melvin.

LEGISLATURE NOTES

T. B. W.

The present session of the Alberta Legislature has been marked by recurring flare-ups between members of the CCF opposition and cabinet ministers to a greater extent than in any session for a long time. The Independent opposition of three members has been comparatively quiet and non-obstructive to just the opposite extent, while the three representatives of the armed forces have refrained from entering any controversy that had no bearing on their particular affiliation.

One member this past week predicted the fraction between the government and the C.C.F. would be likely to increase in succeeding sessions as the time for an election draws nearer. It is to be hoped that better judgement, however, will prevail.

There can be no denying the fact that the blame for most of the rouble and cross-firing in the house is to be laid at the door of the two C. C. F. M. L. A's, Mr. Elmer Roper, party leader, is most provocative in his attitude toward the governments policies and doings. His criticisms on more than one occasion have been shown to be based on partizan prejudice and misinformation. Once or twice government leaders charged him with deliberate misrepresentation.

The words, 'lie', 'liar' and 'lies' have several times been shouted across the floor and Mr. Speaker Dawson has had a tough time saving the assembly from chaos during the debates. Some of the causes of this situation may be demonstrated in one or two instances.

Earlier in the session W. J. Williams Veterans member from Edmonton, stuck his neck out in an attempt to show that the Provincial Mental Hospital were badly managed. He had gathered badly chosen evidence, and made personal visits to at least one institution, but failed to get factual proofs of what he claimed in the house. His complaints included charges that the hospitals were badly overcrowded, unsanitary, short staffed, and that proper care and medical attention was not being given to the patients.

In a speech in the assembly on Thursday this week, Dr. W. W. Cross Minister of Health, was able to give to the house contradictory evidence that proved every one of Mr. Williams charges to be unfounded. In closing his speech Mr. Cross said: "Now, Mr. Speaker, I think I have proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that the statements made are not true." He further said: "I think I have also proved that the party responsible for what was said did not know the facts and was not qualified to properly interpret the conditions which he did see."

Another instance of how these minority incidents spring up during debates in the house was presented when the government on Thursday presented a resolution asking the Dominion Government to appoint and Alberta Farmer's Representatives on the Farm Price Spread Board, as had been promised at the farm strikes last year in the Province.

Mr. Elmer E. Roper rose and announced he would not vote against the resolution, but immediately went on to condemn the government for what he described as its lack of interest in the welfare of the farmers. He said that during the recent strike Premier Manning as representing the government opposed the strike and in an address over the radio had "slapped down the farmers".

Immediately Mr. MacMillan, Minister of Agriculture, jumped to his feet with a hot denial and once again the sparks were flying and the atmosphere was set afire. The back benches on the government side set up a barrage of protests and the word "liar" was heard again. When Speaker Dawson finally got the atmosphere back to normal, Premier Manning rose and read from telegrams he had sent to Prime Minister King in Ottawa urging that the wishes of the Alberta farmers should be granted. It was again a complete refutation of the C.C.F. charges.

The trouble that recurs during debates springs, according to the opinion of one member, from the habit of playing old fashioned politics by the C.C.F. members. Other members of the opposition seem content to let things slide, but as soon as some outside organization of citizens makes a noise, however small, and suggests or demands anything they think benefit somebody, the two C.C.F. members seize upon it and make the demand and the responsibility their own in order to get into an arena that was for the benefit of the people.

It is to be hoped that these demands are promptly put on the order paper and presented either by

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

BIRTHDAY GOLD BRICK

By BESS JANEITH KNIGHT

THE second time the doorbell demanded attention Polly Reidford went slowly to answer. She wasn't interested in doorbells. Her mind was on the birthday dinner she and her sister were giving that night.

The boy said, "Special delivery." Polly signed for the letter. From the kitchen Edda called, "Who from?"

Her dark eyes staring at the ceiling Polly answered, mockingly dramatic, "Our dear Uncle Joseph Jackson."

"What does he want?" Edda asked, coming into the living room.

Polly was reading the letter. She gasped, "He's coming here. My heavens, he's due today. Or," she cried, consternation flooding her face, "he can't do this to me. The first birthday party I've had in five years and he comes to upset things."

"That means seven at the table and some rearranging," Edda nodded, her voice practical and calm. "Maybe he'll be on his good behavior."

"You're optimistic," Polly answered, "how our Mother ever had such an annoying rover for a brother is beyond me. But he's generous," she added grudgingly, "and I think he's really fond of us."

"Umhum," Edda mused doubtfully.

"and don't forget he owns one third of this property."

This house had been the family home since the two were little girls. Now that they were alone; their parents gone, their one brother married and living in a distant city; the girls stayed on in the big house enjoying its comforts at the end of each day's work. School teaching and medical laboratory research kept Polly and Edda busy and well in funds for any need.

A rattling taxi deposited jovial Uncle Jose at the front door at noon. He boomed when he greeted them. "Get my letter? Thought I better give you a little warning so's you'd be home."

Polly said, "Your letter came just this morning."

"It did?" he asked surprised. But to Polly the surprise was faded. Then he saw the table.

"A party? Your birthday, huh?" he grinned at Polly.

"Yes," she said tonelessly, "tonight."

"Just in time," he nodded, a pleased smile spreading over his tanned face. He stroked one side of his impressively respectable mustache and his eyes twinkled behind the rimless spectacles. "Reckon I better go down and shop the town for a present."

"Don't do it," Edda put in. "You'll wind up buying Pershing Square or the Plaza."

"Now, Edda," Uncle Jose admonished, "your old Uncle ain't that dumb. A gold brick, maybe. But nope, not Pershing Square. Don't believe the city fathers would let me take it away."

He chatted all during lunch, telling them about his trip West, how he wasn't ever going to live back in the cold East again. He'd decided maybe he'd finally accept his share of his sister's home for his old age. The girls exchanged glances and Polly thought with a sigh, if I have to put up with twenty one little brats all day and listen to Uncle Jose every evening.

"Well, girls," Uncle Jose left the table. "I'll trot on down town. Got to find some sort of nice present for Polly. Plumm forgot it or I'd have bought something on the way."

"Oh, no you wouldn't," Edda said, "then you wouldn't have any excuse to go down town."

"Well, maybe, maybe not," he said with a grin, "what'll you have, Polly, in case I can find it?"

"Just bring me a gold brick," Polly said airily "you'll probably buy one anyway."

He chuckled and carefully placed his hat on his head so that his grey hair showed generously on the right side. "That the right angle?" he asked Polly, a merry glint in his eyes.

The afternoon wasn't any too long for Polly and Edda with the work they had planned for their party. At four-thirty the telephone rang.

"Hey," Polly heard Uncle Jose call when she answered, "I'm down on the East side. What car do I take to get home?"

"What in the world are you doing on the East side?" she demanded.

"Met a friend," he said, "got that gold brick too. For your birthday."

"Oh, dear," Polly sighed. Then she told him what car to take and how to transfer and cradled the telephone. "He said he'd bought my gold brick," she told Edda, "I wonder what silly thing he's spent his money on now."

"Why don't you let him worry about his money? There's plenty of it," Edda said. "Maybe it'll be something you will like." "I doubt it," Polly said pessimistically.

Their dinner guests arrived and shortly afterward Uncle Jose breezed in. He had a shoe box wrapped in gaudy paper and tied with a huge bow of cheap gold colored ribbon. He handed it to Polly, a smile threatening to break over his face. "Your first present," he said solemnly, "your birthday goldbrick."

She thanked him and sat down to open it. Whatever he bought she knew she must seem grateful. She must make him think it was really something she was delighted to receive. She looked across the room as she started to take off the lid.

"Will it jump at me?" she asked. Uncle Jose shook his head, "Nope. It ain't that strong."

Inheded in shredded tissue paper was an oblong colored package. Polly stared, gasped and lifted the package. "Look," she stammered, "look. My gold brick."

Edda and the four young women guests cried in astonished and admiring chorus, "But-ter."

NEW VARIETY WHEAT, SAUNDERS, PROMISING FOR NORTHERN ALBERTA

—200 BUSHELS FOR SEED

The most promising early wheat for northern Alberta has been developed at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. It has been given the name of Saunders. Disclosing further particulars of the new wheat, recently recommended at Winnipeg for licensing, the Dominion Department of Agriculture said that this new variety meets its objective of an earlier disease-free wheat of Thatcher quality.

Originating from a cross between Thatcher and C26-44.7 in 1938, Saunders is the result of nine years of research. Development of this variety would have taken even longer had not the Cereal Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms raised two crops a year in its greenhouses.

For five years the most promising seed of this cross was tested for carlines in the Peace River area and for four years on Experimental Farms and Stations in Western Canada.

Over this final four-year test, the new variety averaged in Alberta, a yield equal to that of Thatcher and slightly better than that of either Red Bobs or Marquis. It matures three days earlier than Thatcher and $5\frac{1}{2}$ days earlier than Marquis, important considerations in the relatively brief frost-free growing period of the Peace River area.

The Cereal Division has bred into this new wheat resistance to those diseases which limit yield in Northwest Canada. Saunders is resistant to stem rust and loose smut, and moderately resistant to hant, leaf rust and root rot. The Saunders kernel has the good colour of Marquis, and is better than that of Thatcher.

The variety has been named Saunders in recognition of the contributions to wheat growing of Dr. William Saunders, first director of the Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, and his son, Sir Charles Saunders, first Dominion Cerealist. Sir Charles developed Marquis, the first early hard Spring wheat.

Other grades developed by the Dominion Experimental Farms include many varieties of disease resistant oats.

J. G. C. Fraser, Cereal Division, who has headed this project of an earlier wheat for the Peace River area, today stressed the participation of numerous scientists in the development of Saunders wheat.

"No one man should get credit for it," he said. "These cereal developments are on a project basis and everyone works on them. While I was selected to head this project, I had the co-operation of other plant breeding cerealists, plant pathologists who studied the variety's increasing resistance to disease, and the Division's chemist and his associates who reported on the protein content and baking quality of flour milled from this wheat."

Mr. Fraser said that there are only 200 bushels of seed of this variety and these will be sown this spring at the Dominion Experimental Stations at Lacombe and Beaverlodge, Alberta. There they will be increased for wider distribution in 1948.

GARDEN NOTES

Don't Rush

Given a few hours of sunshine and a little warm weather, and the average man starts to worry over getting the garden planted. This is a natural reaction after a cold or tough winter, but experienced gardeners advise caution. There is no need to rush the season in most parts of Canada.

True, early, hardy flowers, all nursery stock, grass seed and some of the first vegetables can be planted just as soon as the soil is fit to work. And fit to work is important! There is nothing to be gained and sometimes there is actual loss by digging the soil when it is too damp. In clay that will result in mud and, later on, lumps that may take weeks of hard work to pulverize. If one can walk through the garden without getting the shoes muddy, the soil can be worked safely, but not before. If it crumbles when released it is safe to proceed with digging or plowing, but if it compacts into a ball then the experts say to leave it alone for a day or two.

Beginners are cautioned, too, against planting all the garden on one afternoon. It is far better to spread it out. Beets, carrots, beans, spinach, lettuce, radish, etc., can be planted every other week right up to late June and the harvest will be spread accordingly. Flowers, too, can be spread over several weeks. Some things, however, like grass seed, nursery stock, garden peas, sweet peas, are best all planted early. Bedding plants like petunias, zinnias, stocks, spider plants, tomatoes, cabbage, etc., should not be set out until all danger of frost is over. Tender things like gladioli, cannas, melons, squash, corn, etc., also come in this category.

Nursery Stock

This term applies to newly purchased shrubs, perennial flowers, vines, trees, raspberry canes and all other things which one normally buys from a nurseryman. Healthy stock will come along quickly with hardly a check. The plants should be kept cool and moist and if they cannot be planted in their permanent location right away they should be "heeled in", that is temporarily planted in a trench with the soil heaped up well above the roots. When replanting it is advisable to supply plenty of water and keep watered for the first few weeks. Planting is best done in the cool of the evening or on dull days, and some shade from hot sun is advisable with tiny things.

Some Showy Flowers

A really wonderful showing can be made with half a dozen annual flowers. Cosmos, Marigolds, zinnias, petunias, portulaca, nicotina, spider plant, calendula, alyssum, stocks, etc., are easily grown almost anywhere in Canada. Some of the larger flowers can be used in the place of shrubs. Seeds should be started early and in finely prepared soil. Plants are transplanted to permanent quarters when they are well established with several sets of leaves. Ready started bedding plants can be bought from the seed store or greenhouse man. For husky growth, tall things like cosmos, gladioli, dahlias, giant marigolds and zinnias should have about two feet each way—petunias and similar things need about a foot.

Chicken Feathers To Make Men's Suits

VANCOUVER. — Harold German, master farmer from Chilliwack, B.C., told the Rotary Club here that a recently-discovered process of making textile fabrics from chicken feathers would inject fresh vigor in British Columbia's already booming poultry industry. Feathers from 40 broilers made sufficient material for a man's suit, he said.
